

Customer Monitor simplifies you persistent operations:

By automated standard technical maintenance

There are the most frequent tasks to improve status of computers ready in CM. Such as defragmentation, deletion of selected directories and restarts of services or servers, which just need to be activated to bring you a high value for very little work.

By automated customized technical maintenance

CM's range of options for easy influencing and controlling of periodically performed processes is far larger than at any competition. Many actions, which you are today performing by scripts or utility programs usually cannot inform you that they have failed. With CM, you can get all actions under full control.

By tasks reminding

Regular, periodical tasks, which the operators have to perform manually, may be transparently scheduled and checked.

Exact solutions are realized via Component:
